

EDITORIAL

I feel very proud in congratulating the team members of “Brahmvart Research Institute”, Kanpur for their endeavour in successfully entering in Second Year of publication of “Journal de Brahmvart”.

The March-June 2016 issue of “Journal de Brahmvart”. The field of archaeology is now not limited to deeding of land or the discovery and introduction of latest scientific instruments helps archaeology. It has become more scientific and very near to acuracy.

With the advancement of information technology and internet resourses it is fuelling the trend of inter-disceplinary researchers in the pure science and social sciences as well. Hope this Journal will provide you stage for sharing ideas and help encouraging researches.

I thank all the researchers and contributors of the current issue of Journal de Brahmvart for spending their vluable time in submission of papers well within stipulated time. Papers appeared in this issue represents variety of disciplines i.e. archaeology, history, education and culture and so on.

Your valuable observations and suggestions will be our assest.
